

What's Your PASSION?

A mini e-course from
ThinkWithYour HEART.net

Welcome to the 12 Questions for the Soul!

A mini e-course designed specifically to connect you with your soulular passion in a very practical way.

Each day, starting today, & for the next 11 days you will be offered a new question to ponder. On the 12th day you will receive detailed information about the intent behind each question and how they encourage you to connect deeply with your heart's call.

I recommend two things:

- 1) Visualize your answers
- 2) Write your answers down

This will serve to not only bring you clarity, but stimulating the energy of your imagination will serve to attract future potentials while the physical action of writing (or typing) will provide you with a tangible tool to ground those creative concepts into form. (If your using Adobe Reader 6.0 or later you can type your answers in the spaces provided and print them out.)

This will be an exercise in using both hemispheres of your brain in a balanced way.

Intuition (feminine) + Logic (masculine) = Inspired Action! (sacred union)

I have also found that the magic formula for forward movement toward our soul's intentions is as follows:

Inspiration (thought) + Aspiration (feeling) =
Motivation (action)

in·spi·ra·tion n 1. something that stimulates the human mind to creative thought

as·pi·ra·tion n 1. a desire or ambition to achieve something mo·ti·va·tion n 1. a reason or incentive to do something

These 12 questions are intended to motivate you into action, even if in a small way.

So have fun, be creative & playful, en-joy...

...but above all else, remember to Think With Your Heart!

Creatively Yours,
Lauren

How do I know what my life purpose is?

That's easy. Your life purpose is whatever you choose it to be.

There is no right or wrong way to express your divinity; in fact, it is your responsibility & joy to define it.

Your only job is to become conscious of your unconsciousness, realize your limitless potential, & make your dreams a reality by molding your passions into a workable living art.

A very common misperception is that our life purpose is something that we DO, when in fact our only purpose is to BE. Your purpose cannot be defined by an action, contrarily, your actions are defined by who you are BEing.

Discovering your Divine Blueprint makes your life & career choices much easier, & once you remember your special contribution to the world, or your soulular essence, you will surely want to share it.

The sharing part, however, is left up to your infinite imagination!

Quite simply, you are a Creator.

Knowing your life purpose means knowing that you create it!

The 12 Questions for the Soul

Based on your answers to these 12 revealing questions, you should recognize at least part of your special essence & your unique contribution to the planet.

At the very least, a soulular nudge.

Even if the how still eludes you, that's ok. That's because the how is not up to you. The how is determined by quantum mechanics...the universal elixir of creation

Some things to note:

- Your heart plays a major role in guiding you to your intended outcome.
- Your deepest desires are designed to remind you of your truth. Even if your desires seem diametrically opposed to one another, chances are you have a unique opportunity to go where no one else has gone. It is important for you to not only honor those seeming contradictions, but to capitalize upon them to create a new way...in fact, it may well be key to your success.
- Be sure to notice any patterns, like energies, or repetition in your answers. Look for common themes.. the tie that binds all of your answers together.
- Patterns will be a strong indication of what is true for you, as will your feelings, so pay close attention to which questions & answers elicit an e-motional response when you read them.

Now Let's Take a look at all 12 Questions and the reasons behind them:

Question 1

If you could instantly manifest one thing in your life, what would that be?

Your answer to this question is an indication of what you are unconsciously blocking in your life, most likely from a deeply embedded fear or an unconscious thought pattern stemming from a past trauma. In other words, we attract the most predominant vibration (frequency) emitted from our electro-magnet-ic fields. When our fears are predominant, we attract symbolic or holographic scenarios to match the frequency of those fears, which is why clearing is the most vital requirement for conscious creation -MRP Simply put, we manifest our desires when we have e-motionally detached from them.

Question 2

What would you Be, Do & Have if it was impossible for you to fail?

Your answer to this question is an indication of your unrealized potential expressing through dreams & fantasies outside of the linear, thinking mind. This visualization is a higher dimensional image of one of many potential realities should you choose to ground it into form by overcoming any fears of failure. In fact, these illusions are probably the only thing keeping you from your dreams & true potential.

Question 3

What would you Be, Do & Have if money didn't exist?

Your answer to this question is an indication of your soul's intentions from the elevated perspective of truth, which is that our wants & needs are always divinely met. This truth exists when survival consciousness is transcended, and all lower dimensional fears are transmuted to make way for the flow of limitless abundance. In this way, who you are is what you came to earth to contribute.

Question 4

What would you like to change about the world?

Your answer to this question is an indication of your potential planetary contribution. Those things that anger you, frustrate you, tear at the heart of you, or compel you into action are quite possibly your cosmic winks...areas of expertise waiting to be developed & expressed. Your drive, better known as passion, is the fire that burns within you for a cause, a desire to change things or make life better in your own unique way. Pay close attention to these impulses and you may find that what urges you to stand up and be counted may be an important link to your role in the awakening of human evolution.

Question 5

What makes you feel the most empowered?
Why?

Your answer to this question is an indication of soulular alignment. Empowerment is the state of self-sovereignty... derived from self-governance and self-sustain-ability. -Step 11 of the 12 Essential Steps This is our true state of being & can be maintained when we are BEing & living in our full truth. When you feel empowered you are linked-in or connected to your expanded potential, & those times/situations/actions that make you feel self-reliant, are cosmic indicators of your true reasons for being here.

Question 6

What activities bring you extraordinary focus & timeless expansion?

Your answer to this question is another indication of soulular connectivity & awareness of your truth. Those activities that you lose yourself in, that bring you into alignment with the powerful present moment & make you feel a sense of freedom & expansion beyond time & space are part of your purposeful plan. This may simply be a hobby or an activity that lifts your frequency to the vibration of joy... which is the highest honor we can pay our planet... or it may be something that you create to share with others. Either way, strong focus = unequivocal manifestation power. It behooves you to notice why & when this special concentration comes into play.

Question 7

What part of yourself do you share with all others? Why?

Your answer to this question is an indication of what you do naturally, presently, & most importantly, outside of thinking. This is your special gift, talent, & your unique essence...that special part of you that no one else has. Most likely it will be the part of yourself that you eventually incorporate into your life's work/passion that will make you unbelievably successful & with effortless ease.

Question 8

Who do you admire? Who do you envy? Why?

Your answers to these questions are possible indications of what your life work will entail should you choose to honor your hearts' call. The people we admire mirror the traits within ourselves that we have already recognized, come to terms with, or integrated. The people we envy mirror the unrealized aspects of our unconscious or untapped potential within...which, coincidentally, is why we only envy certain people. Envy is your soul's way of saying that "you too have the ability to achieve the same goal". A good way to embrace more of your potential is to notice those particular aspects that you envy in others & work to develop those same aspects within yourself. Remain aware of those people whom you admire/envy & over time you will undoubtedly recognize your similarities as they rise to the surface to be integrated within you.

Question 9

Who Admires You? What For?

Your answer to this question is an indication of your personal power, the bold & charismatic energy that you exude when you inhabit this intrinsic essence. It may be an unconscious trait or you may be aware of it. You may have developed it into a tangible form or it may be unexpressed. Either way, this special part of you is admired for a reason & is longing to be shared!

Question 10

Where do you see yourself in 5 years?

Your answer to this question is an indication of your ability to see beyond perceived limitations. If your vision matches your desires, this is a good sign that you have done much work to release self-imposed limitations based on past successes or failures. If however, you see yourself in a less than desirable place in the near future, then you would benefit from releasing those perceived obstacles & illusions of restriction to imagine yourself where you feel you belong as opposed to where you think you do.

Question 11

What inspires your infinite curiosity?

Your answer to this question is an indication of what lights you up, engages your mind and keeps you curious despite all you know about a particular topic. Those things that you are attracted to over and over again, that stimulate your desire to always know more, are laying the foundation of your future work. Self-education is voluntary and based on our soul nudges and deepest desires. This kind of knowledge is unquenchable, insatiable at best. When you follow these urges you are being guided by your soul to educate yourself with what matters 2 U & 4 U, as opposed to conventional education where we are taught what others deem important to learn. This goes hand in hand with self-governance, where we clearly understand that what we are naturally drawn to is our truest & best motivation for learning, which eventually leads to the birth of our own creative contributions to society & the world.

Question 12

What are you most afraid of?

Your answer to this most revealing question of all is undoubtedly related to your purposeful passion because our greatest gifts are very often deeply buried beneath our greatest fears. Why? Its bait. Our full potential cannot be achieved until we have released our fear of attaining it, so our truth patiently sits in the midst of these illusions waiting to be rescued by you! Pretty clever, huh? Your increased magnetism & personal power depends upon your ability to see fear for what it really is, and most importantly to overcome it. -Step 9 of the 12 Essential Steps If you feel completely clueless about your purpose for being here, this is a very necessary place to check. And if your being completely honest with yourself, you will notice that the only reason you have not attained what deeply long for is due to those very illusions waiting to be illuminated with the light of truth. Your truth!

So now what?

By now I am sure you realize that there is much more to connecting with your soul's passion than just finding what you love to do and applying it, so I wanted to offer you some more ideas to assist you to further engage the inner voice, what I refer to as soul speak.

HELPFUL TIPS

- Create a vision board! The goal is to stay connected to your vision of joy & inspiration. The more energy you feed your vision, the more likely it is to manifest, and the more rapid the results. Not in an obsessive way, but daily casual stimulation of your creative powers aimed at your aspirations will draw the resources necessary to aid in the manifestation of your inspiration. This is pure energetic science!
- Hear your higher voice. Since our Higher Self is the part of us that connects directly to the spiritual realms, it is eternal, infinitely wise and transcends our everyday consciousness. Connecting with this infinite intelligence daily links us directly to the magic, miracles and synchronicities in life and helps us to recognize truth at every turn. -The Telepathy Training E-course
- Do something everyday that feels good. This will bring you into alignment with the vibration joy where you can effortlessly ascertain information, ideas & concepts that are aligned with your soul passion and highest good.
- Love yourself fully. Self-nurturing is very valuable for connecting with your soul's passion. Spend time with yourself in silence, heal your body, tend to your needs, put yourself first. Mostly, BE comfortable to honor yourself in this way.

In truth, aligning with our soul's passion is really a process of BEcoming.

Who you ARE is paramount to what you DO!

So...who ARE you?

How do you define yourself?

The answers to these questions are crucial for determining your planetary contribution & life work.

This is your foundation.

So, hopefully I have given you a leg up on your journey!

In fact, I would love to know.

You can't imagine how much it means to receive your positive feedback and encouragement.

Commonly known as the Law of Reciprocity, this law basically states that whatever you do will be returned back to you.

1. “Reciprocate” means to give and take mutually; to return in kind (even in another kind) or degree.

So do great things!

The absence of soul purpose and spiritual truth in our society causes great anxiety, unhappiness, abusive & addictive behaviors and unending discontent. In fact, this disconnection from Source is the #1 reason why most people are not living their dreams.

But together, we can change this! Which is why I've given you my most popular e-course for free.
